

If love didn't exist, no one would care for each other and there would be sadness around the world

No love would mean no kindness

I would be crying

What would happen if love didn't exist?

If love didn't exist the world would be full of hatred and I wouldn't like it

No one would have a happy time

If love was non-existent, it would be a very desolate world